Allan Cunningham's

Florae Insularum Novae Zelandiae Precursor

In 1826, Allan Cunningham became New Zealand's first resident botanist, a role that led to the creation of the Precursor, the forerunner of our modern Flora of New Zealand. Cunningham published 17 articles in four volumes of two journals between 1837 and 1840, providing descriptions of 639 species of vascular and non-vascular plants including several new genera and species. The articles contained many innovations for the time such as the inclusion of ecological information. Particularly novel, was Cunningham's use of Māori words in his scientific names.

Despite their importance to New Zealand botany, these works are rarely seen. For the first time, they have been collated and presented in full, along with the addition of colour photos that depict many of the species described by or named to honour Allan Cunningham.
